Structure

The Building's structure consists of steel-wide flange beams and columns, which is supported by reinforced concrete isolated footings. The lower level floor consists of a 5"-thick poured-in-place reinforced concrete slab-on-grade. The elevated floors and roof consist of composite metal decking topped with a lightweight reinforced concrete.

Exterior

Exterior walls consist of glass curtainwalls with thermal windows in aluminum frames. Pedestrian doors are made of glass and metal.

Elevators

The building contains four Otis cabled high-speed passenger elevators rated at 2,500 pounds capacity for serving the lobby through the 8th floor. One Otis Freight elevator rated at 3,500 pounds capacity serves the ground through the 8th floor.

HVAC

Heating and cooling are provided by a variable air volume system with water-cooled packaged units on each floor and VAV boxes with electric reheat for perimeter zones. The packaged units reject heat through a central cooling loop with one cooling tower on the roof. One outside air fan provides non-conditioned air to the packaged units. One toilet exhaust fan serves the restrooms on all levels.

Electric/Generators

Electrical service to the building is provided by 277/480-volt service with capacity of 5,000-amps for the building. Each office floor is provided with one electrical room that contains 277-volt panels for lighting and HVAC loads, one transformer and 120-volt panels for normal power loads. The building has a 400-KW diesel generator that supports the elevators, fire pump, fire alarm system, stairwell pressurization fans, and emergency/egress lighting.

Fire and Life Safety

The existing fire alarm system consists of a fully addressable Simplex fire panel, pull stations on each stair egress at each floor, smoke detectors in corridors and return-air ductwork, standard audible devices, flashing lights and horns.

The fire alarm system is configured to monitor the building's fire pump, generators, standpipe flow in stairwells, sprinkler flow, and outside fire hydrants. The building is fully sprinkled with an automatic wet pipe system. The fire sprinkler system is supported by a 750-gallon per minute fire pump located in the Ground Level via a double door leading to the main water. In addition to the existing alarm system, the building is also equipped with an emergency air control system that enables the security guard to shut down the air-intake to the building.
